An exquisite, evocative picture book about our relationships with our grandparents, the passing on of knowledge and the cycle of life. This book invites us to look at the sky and the beings that inhabit it, to change our perspective and to find our own path. Its illustrations transform themselves and show how we can find inspiration and poetry in the world around us. Pablo Caracol's work is driven by the desire to understand the playful relationships between previously unrelated elements which can be skillfully combined to create a refreshing new idea. "Many people end up losing their way when they settle down."
