AUTUMN

2011

Season: AUTUMN 2011

This is a guide to the 50 most common species of trees in Western Europe, at any time of year. The texts and detailed illustrations of their leaves, blossoms and fruits, their bark and general appearance as the seasons change, provide ample means to identify them. There is also interesting information about their uses and their benefits for humans and animals.

Learn to recognise the 50 most common species of trees in Western Europe at any time of year.
